They have received appropriate training under the NEBOSH qualification to provide them with the necessary and adequate levels of skills and knowledge to carry out the duties required of this role. Therefore, all employees should regard the H&S Officer as being available if required to act as employee representative on matters relating to Health and Safety in the workplace. However, In keeping with the ethos of openness, honesty, and promotion of positive working practice between all those associated with the operation of The Lioncare Group, it is the wish of The Executive Director that where possible, employees be consulted on health and safety matters directly through the line management system in operation, supervisions, and through the various forums for communication and exchange of information e.g. weekly team meeting.
